

Gain a rewarding career in the defence industry

Get fee-free training and practical experience with Shoalhaven defence companies

Whether you are:

- a school leaver
- looking for work
- at risk of unemployment
- or looking to reskill

the defence industry could be for you.

Renowned as Australia's centre for naval aviation, the Shoalhaven region is home to a number of defence companies employing a highly-skilled workforce including advanced manufacturing, engineering, electronics, welding, assembly of deployable infrastructure and aircraft maintenance.

You will do a short full-time training program (6-8 weeks) followed by up to four weeks' work placement with a local business. This will enable you to apply for jobs in the industry.

Register your interest by contacting Training Services NSW on 13 28 11, or completing the Expression of Interest using the QR code below

Forge your career path in the national defence sector today. Places are limited!

The Australian Government's investment in Defence capability will deliver significant opportunities for NSW defence industry and generate an increasing demand for a highly skilled and specialised STEM workforce to build and maintain new ships, submarines, fighter jets, helicopters, armoured vehicles, infrastructure and facilities.

- Fee-free training at TAFE NSW (Bomaderry campus)
- Transferrable skills and valuable industry experience
- Be job ready for work opportunities in the defence industry

