Unique Student Identifier (USI)

From 1 January 2015, if you are undertaking nationally recognised training delivered by a registered training organisation you will need to have a Unique Student Identifier (USI).

A USI gives you access to your online USI account which is made up of ten numbers and letters. It will look something like this:

3AW88YH9U5

A USI account will contain all your nationally recognised training records and results from 1 January 2015 onwards.

The USI is available online and at no cost to you. Information about the USI can be accessed on the USI website <http://usi.gov.au/Students/Pages/default.aspx>.

You will need a USI when you enrol or re-enrol in training from 1 January 2015 if you are a student enrolling in nationally recognised training for the first time, for example if you are studying at TAFE or with a private training organisation, completing an apprenticeship or skill set, certificate or diploma course; student continuing with nationally recognised training.

You will be required to provide your USI to Amana Living Training Institute during enrolment or prior to completion of your course. Certification documents cannot be issued to you without a USI.

Recognition of Prior Learning, Recognition of Current Competencies and Credit Transfers

You may already have developed skills and knowledge through work, study and life experience that may help you gain exemption or credit for units of competency in your course. This could reduce the time required to gain a qualification.

We recognise relevant prior knowledge and experience through:

1. Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)
2. Credit Transfer (CT) and
3. Recognition of Current Competencies (RCC)

If you believe you have some previous skills, knowledge or life experience that is relevant and would like to apply for RPL, RCC or a CT, you can bring all your relevant documentation to the Pre-Course meeting where you can discuss your eligibility with the SST.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Under the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF), competencies may be attained in a number of ways including any combination of formal or informal training and education, work experience or general life experience. In order to grant RPL, the assessor must be confident that you are currently competent against the endorsed industry or enterprise competency standards or outcomes specified in VET accredited courses.

RPL is an assessment process that evaluates the competency/s of an individual that may have been acquired through formal, non-formal and informal learning to determine the extent to which that individual meets the requirements specified in the training package accredited course.

We offer RPL to all of our students. The evidence required for your application may include current certification, references from current and/or past employers, testimonial from clients, work samples and demonstrations.

Credit Transfer (CT)

Credit Transfer is where you may be granted acknowledgement based on prior studies gained through other Registered Training Organisations or education providers such as TAFE.

For example, you may have completed the same unit of competency at another institution undertaking another course; this will be recognised if the unit is the same both in terms of title and unit code number. If a course title and/or code are not an exact match, a mapping process will be conducted to identify whether the unit requirements have been met. This also includes units/qualifications held from previous training packages.

Where a Credit Transfer is applied for you must provide all the original documents, including any qualifications and related statements of attainment, to the SST who will assess your eligibility.

The granting of credit transfer may shorten the course duration; you will be advised of this upon finalisation of the credit transfer process.

Recognition of Current Competencies (RCC)

RCC applies if an individual has previously successfully completed the requirements of a unit of competency or module and is now required to be reassessed to ensure that the competence is being maintained. It is particularly relevant where there is a requirement for an occupational license or ticket in order to practice in the skill area e.g. first aid

Attendance

Student attendance is paramount to successful completion of learning and assessment outcomes. Students are expected to be in attendance for all training sessions (including site visits).

You are required to arrive for class on time and stay for the full duration of the class. Should it be necessary to leave a class early – you must advise your trainer before the class commences.

If you are absent from class, it is your responsibility to catch up on work missed.

If you miss a training session it is your responsibility to find out what work you are required to catch up on and to organise this with the SST.

If you are aware that you will be unable to attend a training session you are expected to:

- Notify the SST prior to the commencement of the training session. You will be charged $200 for the make-up class if you failed to notify the office.
- Negotiate with the SST for make-up training to be completed where necessary and if a mandatory assessment was undertaken, make alternative arrangements for your assessment.

Punctuality

Being punctual is essential in the workplace. You are expected to be punctual to all training sessions for the same reasons. Being punctual means that you will arrive at all scheduled training sessions at least 10 to 15 minutes prior to commencement and be ready to commence training on time.

You are also expected to remain at the training session for the entire scheduled duration. Leaving early is not acceptable.

Being late or leaving early from a training session may result in you missing an important part of your course. It is your responsibility to catch up on any work not completed.

Materials you are required to bring to training sessions

You are expected to bring basic stationery to each training session, including but not limited to a notepad, pens, pencils and eraser. On your first day of training, we will provide you with a folder to hold all your materials during your course of study. Please ensure you bring this to each class to refer to your notes.

Assessment

Throughout your course you will be assessed regularly in each unit of competency you are undertaking. This is a necessary part of your course and it is your opportunity to demonstrate the skills and knowledge you have acquired during that unit of competency.

Before submitting your assessments to the SST, please ensure that you have kept a copy for your own records. We are required to retain the original of all your assessments for auditing purposes and will not return your original assessments to you.

What is assessment?

Assessment means the process of collecting evidence and making judgements on whether competency has been achieved to confirm that an individual can perform to the standard required in the workplace as specified in a training package or VET accredited course.

It is a systematic process of collecting and evaluating evidence that allows your trainer to make an informed judgement as to whether you have achieved the competency required. You will be asked to perform practical tasks, participate in specific activities and/or to complete written work to demonstrate that you have gained the necessary skills and knowledge and that you can apply these within the workplace.

How will I be assessed?

As you commence each unit of competency, your trainer will give you an outline which will describe the content, the assessment method/s to be used and when you will be assessed in that unit of competency. In some cases, units of competency are assessed independently and in other cases, they can be assessed in conjunction with others. All assessments are mandatory and must be completed satisfactorily for you to be deemed competent.

Assessment Methods

Assessment approaches are varied and can often be different for each unit of competency or even for an individual student. In the majority of cases, more than one assessment method will be used. The different types of assessment methods are detailed below.

Assessment Structure

Development Workshops

Development Workshops give you the opportunity to gain knowledge and skills in a classroom environment. You will be expected to actively participate in the workshops and will have the opportunity to meet fellow students and share your knowledge with them and ask your trainer questions.

During the workshops, you may be asked to:

- Complete in-class assessments
- Discuss and complete case studies/simulated practical tasks
- Participate in Individual/Group activities

You may also be allocated assessments to be completed in your own time.

Participant Notes for each workshop will be given to you on the day and you will need to carefully read through and study these, as you will be asked questions about what you have learnt during your site visits.

Observation Assessment

Observations form a vital part of the assessment process. Where required, assessments will be conducted at a care facility (site visit) and will normally be in the form of:

Direct Observations - where we will observe you working with a resident/client and assess how you apply the knowledge and skills you have learned in your Development Workshops to the real world. The

Prior to your first Site Visit we will talk to you about gaining permission from residents/clients and your Manager/Team Leader for us to observe.

Dates and times for Site Visits will be arranged between you and your trainer for a time that suits you both.

As soon as is reasonably possible at the end of an assessment, your trainer will provide you with the result of the assessment. Feedback will be given on whether you were deemed satisfactory or not yet satisfactory.

Feedback will be constructive and the participant is encouraged to seek clarification if required. Feedback can be in the form of:

- Oral feedback when results are provided at the end of an observation or in a workshop
- Assessment task results

Simulated Observations – where required, ALTI will conduct assessments in a simulated environment, adapted to the unit/task requirements allowing students to demonstrate their skills and knowledge gained through their study

Work Placement

Students will, in most instances, complete their work placement at an Amana Living site, as directed by their course requirements. The Student Services Team and Clinical Education Coordinator will liaise with students and Service Managers/Team Leaders to arrange suitable placement. If placement cannot be found within Amana Living arrangements will be made for the student to complete their placement at a partner organisation.

Workplace Assessment

Your Manager's/Team Leader's Responsibilities

- Support and encourage students
- Accommodate rostering to enable students to attend off the job training
- Allow students to perform tasks outside of their normal roles for assessment purposes
- Provide appropriate feedback on workplace performance in accordance with Amana Living course requirements.
- Ensure the observation process is not interrupted
- Assist students to access relevant resources in the workplace
- Provide students with feedback on workplace performance
- Report problems/needs to the Student Services Team or Training Manager as soon as they arise

Submitting Assessments

All assessments must be submitted directly to the Student Support Team. You must make a copy of your submitted assessment before submitting your assessment. We are required to retain the original of all your assessment tools for auditing purposes and will not return your original assessments.

You are required to satisfactorily complete all units of competency within a qualification in order to fulfil the requirement of a training package.

You will be given feedback from each assessment you undertake. Feedback is ongoing throughout the course.

Individual assessment tools will be rated using the codes:

Satisfactory (S) The required level of competency has been demonstrated in this assessment.

Not Satisfactory (NS) The required level of competency has not been demonstrated on this assessment.

A unit of competency may require a number of Satisfactory (S) assessments before a Competent (C) is obtained in that unit of competency. If any assessment is assessed as Not Satisfactory (NS), then the entire unit of competency will be Not Yet Competent (NYC) as all assessments in a unit of competency must be deemed satisfactory for competency to be achieved.

If you fail to complete all competencies or your assessment is Not Satisfactory (NS), you will be provided an opportunity to make another attempt which may include alternative equivalent assessments in order to prove competence. It is your responsibility to make arrangements with the SST to repeat a Not Satisfactory (NS) assessment. Students will be given the opportunity to reattempt an assessment to prove competence.

Considerations and Reasonable Adjustments

If you experience personal difficulties of a short-term nature (e.g. illness or bereavement) that impede your ability to complete assessments, then special consideration may be available. Please contact the SST to discuss.

Reasonable adjustments will be made to ensure equity in assessment for people with a disability; language or numeracy difficulties; or a diagnosed medical condition. Adjustments may include changes to the assessment process or context that meet your individual needs, including needs related to disability, and/or diverse cultural background, but do not change competency outcomes. Such adjustments are considered “reasonable” if they do not impose an unjustifiable hardship on you or Amana Living Training Institute.

Additional Support

We are committed to giving you the best possible opportunity to successfully complete your chosen course. If any of the following difficulties affect your ability to satisfactorily complete assessments, please contact the SST/Trainer to discuss additional support in the completion of your assessments:

- Problems with language, literacy or numeracy
- A diagnosed disability
- A medical condition and/or
- Personal circumstances

Plagiarism and Cheating

Academic honesty is an essential foundation for student assessment. Students must ensure that the evidence that they submit for assessment is their own and/or acknowledge the work of others appropriately.

Plagiarism is to copy work without acknowledging the source and is a form of cheating.

Amana Living Training Institute will not tolerate cheating (including plagiarism). It is cheating to:

- Hand in someone else's work as your own (with or without that person's permission)

- Use any part of someone else's work without the proper acknowledgement, including breaches of copyright
- Hand in a completely duplicated assignment
- Allow someone else to hand in your work as their own
- copy sentences or paragraphs from one or more sources, present substantial extracts from books, articles, theses, unpublished work such as working papers, seminar and conference papers, internal reports, computer software, websites, lecture notes or tapes, without clearly indicating their origin
- have several people write one assignment and hand in multiple copies, all represented (implicitly or explicitly) as individual work

Amana Living Training Institute will not condone cheating (including plagiarism) under any circumstances. If a trainer suspects cheating, they are to investigate further to establish evidence.

If there is evidence to support the suspicion, the trainer/SST will notify the Training Manager and set out the concerns to the student in writing, requesting a time to discuss the matter.

Once this discussion has occurred, giving the trainer and student the opportunity to provide relevant information, one of the following will occur:

If it is a minor or unintentional offence the student will be required to undertake an alternative form of assessment to provide evidence of attaining the requirements of the component of study. The penalty in this case is that the student is only able to receive the lowest level of pass for the assessment activity.

If it is a serious or deliberate offence the student will fail the assessment. Students are to be advised in writing of the outcome of the discussion.

In either case the misconduct is to be recorded in the student's file. Repeated offences of cheating – minor or serious – will result in failure of the component of study that is the focus of the current misdemeanour.

Students are entitled to appeal against a decision related to cheating in line with the Complaints, Grievances & Appeals process outlined in this Handbook.

If a student believes that his or her work has been plagiarised or copied, he/she must report the matter to a trainer or the SST.

ALTI is committed to ensuring a working environment that is free from harassment. All staff and clients are expected to treat each other with compassion, dignity, courtesy and respect.

Health and Safety

We care about your health and safety while studying with ALTI. It is important that you familiarise yourself with, and follow all rules of the training location, as well as familiarising yourself with all emergency evacuation procedures, the location of the first aid kit and exits.

If you see something that you think is unsafe please inform the assessor/SST.

Privacy

As a Registered Training Organisation, ALTI is obliged to maintain effective administrative and records management systems. This involves the retention of client records.

ALTI staff must be scrupulous in using client information only for the purposes for which it was gathered. Clients must have access to their own training records at all times. Should it be deemed necessary, information about client records can only be divulged to a third party with the written consent of the client.

Complaints and Appeals

Grievance Process

ALTI strives to deal with issues as soon as they emerge, in order to avoid further disruption to the student or the need for a formal complaint.

If learners have a grievance with any aspect of the training, they are encouraged to speak immediately with a trainer or the SST allocated to your studies to resolve the issue.

If the learner is not satisfied that the issue has been resolved, he/she may wish to write a letter to the Business Manager, setting out in detail the issue(s) of concern. This may lead to occasions where an industry-training representative may be invited to act as an objective party to negotiate a satisfactory resolution.

If the matter is unresolved, learners are advised they may take their grievance through legal avenues, the Anti-Discrimination Board, Consumer Affairs, The Department of Training and Workforce Development's Apprenticeship Office (formerly ApprentiCentre), Training Accreditation Council or other bodies as appropriate.

Compliments and Complaints

ALTI has implemented a procedure for continuous improvement that encourages feedback on any of our service provision. All feedback (whether comments, compliments or complaints) are valued and ensures we meet the needs of all learners.

A "How Can We Do Things Better?" form is always available in the training room or talk to trainer.

Assessment Appeals Process

Learners have the right to appeal an assessment result. If you believe that the assessment judgement is incorrect, or the assessment process has not been followed you have the right to appeal. Please refer to the Assessment Appeals Flowchart on the following page:
