

Code of Conduct

Introduction

This Code applies to Universal Biosecurity Limited and all of its subsidiaries (the Company) and sets out the standards of behaviour expected of all employees, directors, officers, contractors and consultants (Personnel).

All Company stakeholders – shareholders, employees, customers, suppliers, creditors and the broader community – are entitled to expect the Company to manage its business and make its decisions with care, integrity and fairness. The Company is, and expects its Personnel to be, committed to doing so.

Acting in a manner consistent with this Code, and with the Company's corporate values and its other corporate governance policies and procedures, will assist the Company in effectively managing its operating risks and meeting its legal and compliance obligations, as well as enhancing the Company's corporate reputation and its total shareholder return.

Key principles

All Personnel are expected to:

- operate with care, prioritising the safety and health of all Personnel and the environment and the communities in which the Company operates;
- act honestly and with high standards of personal integrity;
- comply with the laws and regulations that apply to the Company and its operations;
- not knowingly participate in any illegal or unethical activity;
- not misuse or take advantage of the property or information of, or their position in, the Company for personal gain or to cause detriment to the Company;
- act in the best interests of the Company and not enter into any arrangement or participate in any activity that would conflict with the Company's best interests or that would be likely to negatively affect the Company's reputation; and
- strive to be a good corporate citizen and achieve community respect.

The Company has a range of policies that underpin this Code. These policies are designed to foster and maintain ethical business conduct within the Company and govern such things as handling of confidential information, insider trading, risk management and legal compliance. These policies are available from the Company Secretary and, where necessary or appropriate, are published on the Company's website and incorporated into contracting agreements. All Personnel are expected to be familiar, and comply, with these policies.

Acting with care

The Company prioritises safety, health, the environment and community. It seeks to be aware of and respond appropriately to its responsibilities with respect to these matters. In practice, this means having a commitment to transparency, fair dealing, responsible treatment of employees and partners and constructive associations with the communities with which the Company interacts. All Personnel must ensure that appropriate care is integrated into the culture of the Company at all levels.

Behaviour of Personnel

All Personnel must discharge their duties with honesty and integrity. This Code and other applicable policies and procedures, set out the principles of the conduct that is expected from Personnel.

Illegal or unethical behaviour

Under no circumstances will any Personnel engage in any conduct which may constitute, or may be perceived to constitute, illegal or unethical activity. Such activity includes, for example, the giving or receiving of bribes, facilitation payments, inducements, commissions or other improper benefits (whether or not such conduct has the purpose of furthering the Company's or the Personnel's interests).

Individuals should (anonymously) bring illegal or unethical activity to the attention of the Managing Director (or the Board as appropriate) for investigation.

Conflicts of interest that lead to biased decision making may constitute illegal or unethical conduct.

It is each Personnel's responsibility to avoid any conflict that could compromise their ability to perform their duties impartially. All Personnel must report any potential or actual conflicts of interest to their manager or the Managing Director (or to the Chairman in the case of directors).
