HEALTH SERVICE

UNITING COMMUNITIES

ARE YOU A YOUNG PERSON SEEKING SUPPORT FOR YOUR ALCOHOL AND OTHER DRUG USE?

We can help.

Streetlink is a free and confidential youth health service that provides alcohol and other drug counselling, and health and medical services for young people aged 10 to 25 and their families.

Our service is free, confidential and safe. We are an inclusive, respectful service for young people from diverse family and cultural backgrounds, sexualities and gender identities and who are homeless or at risk.

We offer:

- alcohol and other drug counselling and support in the city, southern and northern suburbs and via outreach
- a fines reduction program for eligible fines as a part of your counselling
- alcohol and other drug education for individuals and groups
- a families program for people who are concerned about a loved-one's alcohol and other drug use
- a bulk-billing GP and a walk-in nurse clinic to help with a range of medical needs.

We can also provide interpreter and translation services if required.

Alcohol and other drug (AOD) services

We're here to help if your use of alcohol or other drugs is causing problems for yourself or a family member.

We offer assessment, counselling and support if you:

are concerned about your use

have stopped using but feel you might start again feel your drug use is affecting your mental health are pregnant and concerned about alcohol or drug use want to connect to medical services to help reduce your use want support for a family member's drug use

Supporting your health
