It had to happen sooner or later. The NSW Govt has a fetish about killing off public transport, especially rail.

Something must be done sooner or later about the so-called Planning Dept. It is just a final trivial step for the developers, who have deeply infiltrated the whole planning system.

It's so easy to pay off the politicians with donations and after-MP- service jobs, to install incompetent or corrupt senior bureaucrats.

I cite the classic case of the approval of the Tralee development under the Canberra aircraft pathway. No-one in their right mind would actually plan this. Then on top of that the ridiculous premier wants to make put the 2nd Sydney Airport there!

No to the so-called redevelopment.

Thank you,
