I am opposed to the proposal to widen St Andrews Road and make it an arterial road to Camden Valley Way. I write as a stakeholder in the matter as a member of the Sydney Decatur Carmelite community which uses the Mount Carmel Retreat Centre regularly. This Centre is a property that has been recently refurbished significantly. The cost of doing so has been significant and would be wasted as the road-widening proposal would ruin the principal activity of the Retreat Centre users of the Centre do visit there because of its peaceful and semi-rural atmosphere. The Centre does benefit the community considerably.
