I know progress will happen but I would like it if the land owners ~~and~~ are more inform as to when thing will happen and not given the brush off. As <sup>we</sup> well ~~we~~ be losing our home to a 4 lane Road it would be really good to know when its likely to happen. As living in himba is no good for any one My husband has prostate Cancer and dont need the extra stress added to his health issue.

When asked a direct question I would like a direct clear answer after all its our home that will be going we need to know when all this will happen. I better you but wouldn't like it if it was happening to you and your home
