The government needs to plan to counter the real symptoms of climate change. Weather changes like sea-level rise, storm surges, and changed rainfall patterns.

There needs to be provision made for distributed energy, water and food systems so that our cities, suburbs and the bush are resilient to dramatic change.

It is a reality that the coal industry is in structural decline.

We want a moratorium on all new coal mines and a plan for a just transition for the Hunter Valley so that we can rehabilitate the damage the mines have done. There must be new focus on providing sustainable jobs and industry.

The Valley needs permanent and absolute protection for the wine industry, thoroughbred industry, water resources, good farmland and villages from coal mines.

Plans for a fourth coal terminal in Newcastle must be scrapped.

It is vital at this time that the world-renowned wetlands of Ash Island are protected by adding them to the Hunter Wetlands National Park.

This is the time for change in our region towards a more responsible far sighted future for our children.
