Clean air, water, soil, power (and food) should not be luxuries for those who can afford to buy their own remote islands. Let the whole world enjoy well informed stable govts. and populations No boom or bust economic nonsense. Wave power is looking good also. King of Morocco is well on way with solar. We are supposed to be well informed, capable and clever too aren't we? I don't like us being jump on the wagon opportunists, it's undignified and doesn't suit the country or it's traditions.
Always save something for the birds as my Father used to say.
