

Review of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Regulation 2000

Lotsearch submission on the Issues Paper: Part 6 - Planning Certificates

In response to the request for submissions on the Issues Paper relating to the Review of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Regulation 2000, Lotsearch proposes the following improvements to the Regulation with regards to Planning Certificates issues under Sections 149 (2) and (5).

What information should be included on planning certificates?

Planning certificates are a useful mechanism for local authorities to report information pertaining to a specific property or piece of land.

However, recent improvements in technology combined with the government's open data initiatives has meant that there are now multiple opportunities for businesses to help improve and streamline accessibility to key information.

For example, commercial reports (see Lotsearch Sample Report in Appendix A) are ordered by clients when conducting a desktop site risk assessment. By packaging up a variety of different historical information with key government data into a single comprehensive site report, we help identify potential environmental risks.

Recognising that risk to land and property can often come from off-site sources is key and this information is often missing from a section 149 planning certificate. These reports provide a spatial search of the surrounding area. Production and delivery of these reports is automated.

Integrating planning certificates with commercial offerings would remove duplication, and help streamline the environmental assessment and development process.

Should planning certificates identify whether a parcel of land is identified as 'potentially contaminated land'?

Accurately gauging the level of risk in terms of environmental contamination is an involved process, requiring detailed historical knowledge of the activities that have occurred onsite and in the surrounding area. Regulating planning certificates to include information as to whether land is 'potentially' contaminated, will place additional burden on local and state authorities to find, maintain, map and interpret historic land use data.

Lotsearch holds the largest database of potentially contaminated sites across Australia, having mapped over 2.5 million former businesses including high risk sites such as service stations and dry cleaners. The database requires significant resource in terms of development and maintenance as more historical data is captured.

Business models for integrating environmental and planning data services with those provided by state and local authorities already exist in the UK and US. Working closely with local authorities, these providers are utilising their extensive historical land use data to accurately assess the contamination risk associated with a specific parcel of land. Determining the contamination risk of a site is often not possible when based on the incomplete or insufficient land use data typically held by councils (see Appendix B for examples).

Finally, we welcome the review and the proposed move to an online, centralised system and would be happy to support these initiatives where we can.

List of NSW contaminated sites notified to EPA

Records from the NSW EPA Contaminated Land list within the report buffer:

The values within the EPA site management class in the table above, are given more detailed explanations in the table below:

EPA site management class	Explanation
Contamination being managed via the planning process (EP&A Act)	The EPA has completed an assessment of the contamination and decided that the contamination is significant enough to warrant regulation. The contamination of this site is managed by the consent authority under the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (EP&A Act) planning approval process, with EPA involvement as necessary to ensure significant contamination is adequately addressed. The consent authority is typically a local council or the Department of Planning and Environment.
Contamination currently regulated under CLM Act	The EPA has completed an assessment of the contamination and decided that the contamination is significant enough to warrant regulation under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 (CLM Act). Management of the contamination is regulated by the EPA under the CLM Act. Regulatory notices are available on the EPA's Contaminated Land Public Record of Notices.
Contamination currently regulated under POEO Act	The EPA has completed an assessment of the contamination and decided that the contamination is significant enough to warrant regulation. Management of the contamination is regulated under the Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997 (POEO Act). The EPA's regulatory actions under the POEO Act are available on the POEO public register.
Contamination formerly regulated under the CLM Act	The EPA has determined that the contamination is no longer significant enough to warrant regulation under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 (CLM Act). The contamination was addressed under the CLM Act.
Contamination formerly regulated under the POEO Act	The EPA has determined that the contamination is no longer significant enough to warrant regulation. The contamination was addressed under the Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997 (POEO Act).
Contamination was addressed via the planning process (EP&A Act)	The EPA has determined that the contamination is no longer significant enough to warrant regulation. The contamination was addressed by the appropriate consent authority via the planning process under the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979 (EP&A Act).
Ongoing maintenance required to manage residual contamination (CLM Act)	The EPA has determined that ongoing maintenance, under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 (CLM Act), is required to manage the residual contamination. Regulatory notices under the CLM Act are available on the EPA's Contaminated Land Public Record of Notices.
Regulation being finalised	The EPA has completed an assessment of the contamination and decided that the contamination is significant enough to warrant regulation under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997. A regulatory approach is being finalised.
Regulation under the CLM Act not required	The EPA has completed an assessment of the contamination and decided that regulation under the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 is not required.
Under assessment	The contamination is being assessed by the EPA to determine whether regulation is required. The EPA may require further information to complete the assessment. For example, the completion of management actions regulated under the planning process or Protection of the Environment Operations Act 1997. Alternatively, the EPA may require information via a notice issued under s77 of the Contaminated Land Management Act 1997 or issue a Preliminary Investigation Order.

Atlas of Australian Soils

Soil mapping units and Australian Soil Classification orders within the dataset buffer:

Map Unit Code	Soil Order	Map Unit Description	Distance
Tb35	Sodosol	Dissected plateau remnants--flat to undulating ridge tops with moderate to steep side slopes: chief soils are hard acidic yellow and yellow mottled soils (Dy3.41), (Dy2.21), and (Dy2.41) and hard acidic red soils (Dr2.21); many shallow profiles occur and profile thickness varies considerably over short distances. Associated are: (Gn3.54), (Gn3.14), and possibly other (Gn3) soils; (Db1.2) soils on some ridges; (Dy5.81) soils in areas transitional to unit Mb2; soils common to unit Mb2; and eroded lateritic remnants. Small areas of other soils are likely. Flat ferruginous shale or sandstone fragments are common on and/or in and/or below the soils of this unit.	0m
Mb2	Kandosol	Dissected sandstone plateau of moderate to strong relief with sandstone pillars, ledges, and slabs-- level to undulating ridges, irregularly benched slopes, steep ridges, cliffs, canyons, narrow sandy valleys: chief soils are (i) on areas of gentle to moderate relief, acid yellow leached earths (Gn2.74) and (Gn2.34) and acid leached yellow earths (Gn2.24)-sometimes these soils contain ironstone gravel; and (ii) on, or adjacent to, areas of strong relief, siliceous sands (Uc1.2), leached sands (Uc2.12) and (Uc2.2), and shallow forms of the above (Gn2) soils. Associated are: (i) on flat to gently undulating remnants of the original plateau surface, leached sands (Uc2.3), siliceous sands (Uc1.2), sandy earths (Uc5.22), and (Gn2) soils as for (i) above (these areas are in part comparable with unit Cb29); (ii) on flat ironstone gravelly remnants of the original plateau surface, (Gn2) soils as for unit Mb5(i); (iii) on gently undulating ridges where interbedded shales are exposed, shallow, often stony (Dy3.41), (Dr2.21), and related soils similar to unit Tb35; (iv) narrow valleys of (Uc2.3) soils flanked by moderate slopes of (Dy3.41) soils; (v) escarpments of steep hills with shallow (Dy) and (Dr) soils between sandstone pillars; and (vi) shallow (Um) soils, such as (Um6.21) on steep hills of basic rocks. As mapped, minor areas of units Mg20, Mm1, and Mw8 are included. Data are limited.	34m

PLANNING CERTIFICATE UNDER SECTION 149 (5) OF THE ENVIRONMENTAL PLANNING AND ASSESSMENT ACT, 1979

Contaminated Land Potential:

Council records do not have sufficient information about the uses (including previous uses) of the land which is the subject of this section 149 certificate to confirm that the land has not been used for a purpose which would be likely to have contaminated the land. Parties should make their own enquiries as to whether the land may be contaminated.

ANNEXURE TO APPLICATION

Section 149(5) Planning Certificate Environmental Planning & Assessment Act 1979

Contamination

Council records do not have sufficient information about previous use of this land to determine whether the land is contaminated.

Issued under Section 149 of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979, as amended.

7 Council and other public authority policies on hazard risk restrictions

(a) adopted by the council, or

Council has adopted by resolution a Chapter in Development Control Plan 2012 on contaminated land which may restrict the development of the land. The relevant policy is implemented when zoning, development or land use changes are proposed on lands which have been used or affected by certain activities. While Council records do provide information about contamination of some land in the local government area, Council does not have sufficient information about previous uses of this land to determine whether the land may be contaminated. Consideration of Council's adopted DCP and the application of provisions under relevant State legislation is warranted.

Information supplied pursuant to Section 149(5) of the EPA Act 1979, As Amended

Further responses arising from Questions 7 and 10, if applicable

- (a) Relevant site history in relation to potential contamination from Council's electronic property database.
- (b) Any investigations undertaken, testing results and remediation works carried out, together with information on site suitability for future uses.
- (c) Partial remediation where the site is still above threshold levels of suitability for certain uses.

Not Identified in Council's Electronic property database. Council holds property files which may contain additional information regarding potential contamination of the subject land.
