

Hello all,

In these unprecedented times, Adventist Record remains committed to serving the Seventh-day Adventist Church in the South Pacific and keeping our members informed, inspired, connected and nurtured.

With this in mind, we wanted to let you know what is happening with Adventist Record. At this stage we are: Still printing the magazine; Still producing online and social media content; Still sending out a weekly email newsletter (you can subscribe using this link: <http://bit.ly/recordemail>).

This is a crucial way to communicate with our church members at this time. We have some ideas around how this could work better and as such we would love it if you could help us get the word out that we will still be continuing with our operations. In this way we can help to get important messages out to as many people as we can, quickly and effectively.

When our ministers or elders are visiting members during this crisis (while taking proper hygiene precautions) they could drop off physical copies of Record as part of their visit, providing them with a tangible connection to church.

Some may need help and support to go online, including accessing the Record PDF version or how to sign up for email/social feeds. Please encourage members to subscribe to our weekly e-newsletter to stay updated.

We can still be contacted if people are concerned, would like to change their subscription details or have any other queries.

Of course, as we've all learned over the past few weeks, this situation is changing every day and we will try to keep you updated with what is happening.

Blessings,
Jarrod Stackelroth, Editor
