Green Wedge Precinct Masterplan

KINGSTON GREEN WEDGE LANDSCAPE PLAN

Mordialloc Green Wedge trail network

- This section of trail connects the Dingley Bypass to the east, Boundary Road to the west, Centurion Dandenong Road to the north and Lower Dandenong Road to the south.
- This section of trail is bounded to the north by the Mordialloc Bypass, to the south by Deans Road, to the west by the eastern boundary of the Kingston Heath Reserve, and to the east by the Dingley Bypass.
- This section of trail is suitable for shared use by cyclists and pedestrians.
- This section of trail is part of the broader Mordialloc Green Wedge trail network.

C113 Dingley Bypass shared trail

- This section of trail connects the Dingley Bypass to the east, Centurion Dandenong Road to the north and Lower Dandenong Road to the south.
- This section of trail is bounded to the north by the Mordialloc Bypass, to the south by Deans Road, to the west by the eastern boundary of the Kingston Heath Reserve, and to the east by the Dingley Bypass.
- This section of trail is suitable for shared use by cyclists and pedestrians.
- This section of trail is part of the broader Mordialloc Green Wedge trail network.

Clarence and Clayton South Green Wedge trail network

- This section of trail connects the Dingley Bypass to the east, Boundary Road to the west, Centurion Dandenong Road to the north and Lower Dandenong Road to the south.
- This section of trail is bounded to the north by the Mordialloc Bypass, to the south by Deans Road, to the west by the eastern boundary of the Kingston Heath Reserve, and to the east by the Dingley Bypass.
- This section of trail is suitable for shared use by cyclists and pedestrians.
- This section of trail is part of the broader Mordialloc Green Wedge trail network.

Dingley Village Green Wedge trail network

- This section of trail connects the Dingley Bypass to the east, Boundary Road to the west, Centurion Dandenong Road to the north and Lower Dandenong Road to the south.
- This section of trail is bounded to the north by the Mordialloc Bypass, to the south by Deans Road, to the west by the eastern boundary of the Kingston Heath Reserve, and to the east by the Dingley Bypass.
- This section of trail is suitable for shared use by cyclists and pedestrians.
- This section of trail is part of the broader Mordialloc Green Wedge trail network.