To Whom it May Concern,

I have reviewed the Draft Strategic Extractive Resource Area Pilot Project documentation. I wish to clarify some inaccuracies in the draft document.

Landrock Quarries Pty Ltd is a registered company in Victoria. (See Annexure 1)

Landrock Quarries Pty Ltd submitted an application for a Work Authority in September 2011.

At Page 8 of the draft document Table 6 purports to be a summary of all projects received by ERR between 2011 and 2013. This list is incomplete.

I have attached a copy of the receipt of the application made on Landrock Quarries Pty Ltd behalf by my consultant, [REDACTED] on 6th September 2011. (Refer Annexure 2)

I have also attached an image taken from the Geovic Website which confirms the Work Authority Boundaries that accompanied the application in 2011. (See Annexure 3)

This application is a live application and preparatory work has been ongoing since the lodging of this application. That work includes completed Cultural Heritage Assessment performed by [REDACTED].

The land has been appropriately identified under the Special Use Zone (SUZ) and has been identified for extraction due to the quality and quantity of basalt resource. Comprehensive drilling and testing conducted by [REDACTED] for and on behalf of Landrock Quarries in 2016 has confirmed the quality and extent of the resource.

The Work Plan will be submitted before the end of 2020 for Statutory Endorsement.

Landrock Quarries supports the SERA Initiative and the proposed changes to the planning and legislative framework which will add greater certainty to applicants that approvals can be obtained.

If you have any questions regarding this submission please contact me,
