I would like for helium balloons to be totally banned in vic. Even ones that are not intentionally released can fly away. These balloons can end up killing our wildlife as they mistake it for food, or get caught up in it.

Also, the legal definition of 'Free Range' for chickens for food, and laying chickens is not good enough. It must be improved. Perhaps there can be a rename for what is now 'free range' and a new name for the better version of free range. (Like how Sunny Queen keep their egg laying chickens)

Cage chickens should not be allowed under law. It is a terrible way to live their lives. Often with sores on their feet. Not being able to move around, and stuck in the cage all the time.
