I do believe that the land management has been under managed and in effect has caused damage and confusion to our natural landscape. Greed and corruption has take first place rather than looking after the land which provides animals and us with things we need to live. The land makes money and it should be respected!! It should be managed by and with Aboriginal elders and we as a populace should learn as well. Agriculture, is also destroying our land and we have make changes to, live within our means. Stop growning cotton and others based on demand and look at how Australia when it was founded was 80% dry, how on earth was that a good idea. We are taking what animals need water and land.

Funding should be at up most importance to the nonprofit and other organizations that help wildlife and educate the people, in adds and other means by the government to better understanding. More improvement needs to be done to protect bees, no more use of harmful chemicals in pesticides or herbicide and no spraying from car windows and I have seen this many times and this needed to be monitored. Wildlife and land before money. Thank you for your time
