Comments: There are many who are more eloquent than me to detail the many negative effects of this 'project' progressing. They are well detailed through a number of mediums - websites and social media to name just a couple, and should be carefully considered before approving any continuation. I personally deplore the impact that could and will eventuate if this progresses. The impact to small businesses, the cultural degradation and disrespect to First Nations people, the ecological disturbance and damage. 20 years benefit at the cost of 100s and 1000s of years - short term thinking we need to stop.
