Details of Submission - How does this application directly affect you?

This location was an area I visited with RMIT for our cultural heritage studies. I'm concerned about the impacts on culturally significant areas; smells, light pollution, water pollution, hydrology impacts + possible biological disease that has been linked with this kind of aquaculture. There has been previous case of near-extinction of local abalone population due to disease from aquaculture in the area previously.
This beach is a safe swimming place I visit every (summer) months.
B What if that changes?
