Comments: Victoria is a relatively small state that had vast areas devastated by unprecedented bushfires last summer. It is unthinkable to consider the damage that this mine would inflict on pristine land and waterways.. Our planet is in dire danger and we must listen to nature's warning signals. Short term economic gain will not have any relevance on an unliveable planet. For the sake of our children grandchildren,all the native creatures that inhabit the area and that magnificent country please take notice of my submission.
