Comments: I was very upset when I heard that Bulleen Art and Garden Centre is threatened with closure due to The North East link Project. Surely your Engineers and Designers can come up With a suitable construction design that won't mean the end of BAAG in the place it is now. BAAG is a haven for gardeners and quirky art lovers, the environment is unique and important for the soul, for people who care about conservation, of nature and creating a similar harmonious atmosphere in their own gardens. Like many people, I love going to BAAG my first stop is wandering through the Arts section then to the gardening section, buying plants, soaking up the atmosphere and sometimes asking for advice on how and what to grow.
