Comments: I write in support of the Bulleen Art and Garden (BAAG). BAAG is a really important part of my life, there are very few independent nurseries around these days and I rely on them as a local supplier of indigenous plants for my local area. I know that if they can grow them then I will be able to as well. It's very important to me to support my local business as they are integral to the health of our community. They are not simply a shop but a true part of the community and they need to stay exactly where they are. Even if they were to keep operating at a new location, it is very likely won't be local to me anymore. BAAG have established themselves firmly in their location and all measures should be taken to ensuring they remain there.
