Comments: I have a long standing relationship with Bulleen Art and Garden (BAAG). I have been a business customer of theirs for over 10 years and they have supported me enormously in that time. BAAG's environmental and sustainability focus has been a key reason we have built a solid relationship over the years. Their support of local artists and landscape and gardening professionals as well as support of local community groups and festivals holds them in high regard throughout the landscape and gardening industries. If BAAG is forced to move premises it may have a significant effect on my business - the flow on effect ripples through the local community.
