I would love to see more protection of our wildlife's natural habitats. Suburbs sprawl further and further out, forests are logged and our animals are left with nowhere to go. I also believe we should be putting more money (any money??) into dealing with the mange crisis in the wombat population. It is a horrific disease wiping them out in the most painful way, but we have the ability to eradicate it if we put the time and money into the right programs. Thanks for your consideration.
