

SIMPLEX Chair

Designed by Oscar Tusquets, Simplex is a chair reduced to its essential elements: a continuous tubular structure that begins at the backrest and extends down into the front legs, a round seat, and a precise system of connections that allows such a minimal structure to exist. Its slender rear legs and suspended backrest create an unusual sense of lightness, almost as if the chair were suspended in space.

Reduced to very few elements, Simplex appears almost weightless while remaining remarkably grounded and stable. The continuous backrest recalls familiar café chairs like the classic Thonet armchair, while the circular seat references Enzo Mari's Tonietta.

Simplex is available in two versions: one made for indoors, with a seat in wood, and one made for outdoors, with a seat in brushed aluminium.

MATERIAL & FINISHES

Seat made in beech plywood and stained in three colours: oyster white (RAL 1013), cement grey (RAL 7033) and black. Structure made of steel tubes powder-coated in satin finish, matching the wood color. The seat is attached to the metal frame using four plastic spacers, which also help protect the wooden seat during stacking.

Feet equipped with plastic glides.

Optionally, an extra backrest made of beech plywood stained with the same finish as the seat can be added.

The chairs are stackable even with the extra backrest (4 chairs maximum).

OUTDOOR VERSION

Seat made of brushed aluminium, silver matt anodized finish. Structure made of polished stainless steel tubes. The seat is attached to the metal frame using four plastic spacers, which also help protect the seat during stacking. Optionally, an extra backrest made of brushed aluminium with the same silver matt anodized finish as the seat can be added.
