THANK YOU TO OUR PLATINUM SPONSOR

JOHN HOLLAND

John Holland is up for the challenge of transforming lives. From humble beginnings more than 75 years, John Holland has been driving positive change in Australasia, and is now one of the region's leading integrated infrastructure, rail and building companies.

Our integrated service offering includes design, construction, operations and maintenance across the rail, building and infrastructure sectors. But just as important as our capabilities are our values. We think deeply about what we do and how it affects communities. By pushing boundaries and innovating, we gain trust through our actions – whatever the project, we're in it for the long, long term.

Our expert rail team in New Zealand work collaboratively with our customers to add value beyond the design and construction phase of a project, investing in training and development for local people, and working with the community to create a positive and lasting legacy.
