

It's been a while Let's talk!

The team at Fosterville Gold Mine is committed to working collaboratively with our community in order to maintain an open and honest dialogue.

During both 2020 and 2021 we weren't able to proceed with planned engagement activities and missed the regular opportunity to meet with our neighbours.

However, given that we are now able to resume face-to-face interactions, we are pleased to extend an invitation to neighbouring landholders to meet with us in early December.

We know from our Community Voices Survey, that there are questions and some concerns regarding Fosterville Gold Mine's operations. The aim of these meetings will be to listen to your concerns and gather more details so that we can work on solutions or provide answers where needed.

In order to make it as easy for you to participate as possible, we are very flexible about where these conversations take place.

Meetings can be with individual households or in small groups and may be held either onsite, at private residences, online or at an agreed location.

We are also taking registrations for small group site tours where there will be opportunity to see the operations first-hand and have discussions with FGM personnel.

Below are the dates and times that we have set aside for these conversations and we would love to have as many participants register to take part as possible.

If these days don't suit, please let us know and we will do our best to facilitate a conversation with you at another time.
